Extreme Book HighlightingBy Tricia USAShould have stated that this book has excessive colorful highlighting and it took longer than what was stated in the length of time I was suppose to receive this book.

The ICD-9-CM Coding Handbook is the only guide published in collaboration with the Central Office on ICD-9-CM of the American Hospital Association (AHA). The Central Office is the official industry oversight body and Central Office staff are the nation's experts on coding protocols and prepare two official publications in addition to the coding handbook: AHA Coding Clinic for ICD-9-CM and ICD-9-CM Official Guidelines for Coding and Reporting. The ICD-9-CM Coding Handbook helps coders understand the basic principles behind the classification system so they can apply the official coding advice provided by Central Office publications. The Handbook is designed for academic and in-service training programs, in-service performance evaluations and individual self-instruction, and it can be used as a workplace reference. Instructors can easily arrange their course outlines around Handbook chapters to train new and experienced students. Each Handbook provides 100+ review exercises that describe additional information about a patient's background or condition, and allow coders to practice their coding skills on examples based on diagnostic statements. The appendix contains official guidelines for coding and reporting.

About the AuthorCONTINUING FAYE BROWN'S FORMAT, STYLE AND THOROUGHNESS. The first edition of the ICD-9-CM Coding Handbook was developed by the AHA's Central Office on ICD-9-CM staff and published in 1979. Faye Brown, in cooperation with the AHA's Central Office, authored and revised the 1980-2003 editions. Nelly Leon-Chisen, RHIA, who worked with Ms. Brown for more than a decade, has led the team of contributors who have updated the Handbooks since 2003. Nelly is the director of coding and classification at the AHA, where she heads the Central Office on ICD-9-CM and the Central Office on HCPCS. She represents the AHA as one of the ICD-9-CM cooperating parties responsible for the development of AHA Coding Clinic for ICD-9-CM and ICD-9-CM Official Guidelines for Coding and Reporting.
