Jack J. Kanski MD MS FRCS FRCOphth, Anne Bolton BIPP DATEC BA(Hons) : Illustrated Tutorials in Clinical Ophthalmology with CD-ROM, 1e before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Illustrated Tutorials in Clinical Ophthalmology with CD-ROM, 1e:

Royal Society of Medicine Book Awards 2001 Highly Commended In a highly illustrated format, the Illustrated Tutorials summarize the key facts in the diagnosis and treatment of a wide range of eye conditions. This textbook is an invaluable revision guide for those preparing for professional examinations, and provides a framework for acquiring more in-depth knowledge, which can be found in Kanski's Clinical Ophthalmology 6th Edition. The accompanying CD-ROM is a useful resource for those leading teaching sessions, saving time normally spent preparing material. It is accessible enough for trainees to use the slides as a self-assessment tool following a lecture, or even as a guide to presenting a tutorial themselves. A unique resource of 46 structured tutorials in clinical ophthalmology, and an additional 18 on the CD-ROM - helping trainees cover all potential areas. Each tutorial consists of colour illustrations which emphasize important clinical features and are accompanied by succinct text - easy to understand and remember. Ideal as a source of teaching material for the busy lecturer, and as a lecture preparation guide for trainees - a great all-round text!
